IN THE LIMELIGHT

This Week's Feature Story

Shaking it up at the Jolly Roger

Bud Light True Music Series Returns in 2009

JR favourites, Hudson & The Hoodoo Cats

Lou Schwartz likes to refer to the Jolly Roger, his West End eatery, as Jolly World – and for good reason. The waterside restaurant always sports a lively crowd, good food, and in season, an array of live music encompassing everything from popular local reggae bands to get-up-and-dance rhythm and blues bands.

Starting on January 9 and 10, the Jolly Roger will launch its sixth season of the Bud Light True Music Series with Dan and Levi. Dan Myers is a veritable one-man band, playing harmonica, mandolin and violin as well as providing vocals, while Levi Britton specializes in acoustic guitar and vocals. On Jan 23 and 24, Chris Klein and the Boulevards will bring New Orleans style jazz, blues and great dance music to the JR.

In February the Milwaukee based band, the Blues Disciples are slated to play their brand of Chicago electric blues, followed later in the month by the Grandsons, whose music The Washington Post describes as “vintage pop, country, jazz and rhythm and blues.” Deb Callahan, who has been compared to Bonnie Raitt, will perform along with her band in March, followed by Reverend Raven; this soulful blues man took the Jolly Roger by storm when he appeared there last year. The Music Series will end with a flourish in April with Hudson and the Hoodoo Cats, a perennial JR favorite. The band, led by Hudson Harkins on drums, shakes things up with its “jump-swing-rockin-boogie-blues-billy music.”

Lou, a music lover who has owned the Jolly Roger for 18 years sums it up when he says, “Bringing a cross section of different modes of music to the island is what the Jolly Roger is about.”

Christmas in Anegada

A few weeks ago, while Christmas on Main Street took center stage on Tortola, I stumbled upon another event that I hadn't known about. Up in Anegada for the weekend, I couldn't help but notice some event preparations were being made at the roundabout, and after asking around, I discovered that they were holding their tree-lighting ceremony that evening. I promptly decided I needed to check it out, since this was the largest Christmas tree I'd seen in awhile.

Sure enough, I showed up later in the evening and found what had to be most of the population of Anegada and all of the weekend tourists milling around the roundabout. Food vendors were selling tasty treats and a band was setting up on stage. After settling in with some food and drink, I began to realize many people were wearing matching t-shirts whose logos revealed that they were a flotilla of charter guests from Canada. Then I spotted orange goals and black sticks which I immediately recognized as street hockey equipment. And it all started to come together.

As it was explained to the crowd, a few years ago, a Canadian man visited Anegada around Christmastime and happened to stumble upon the island's tree lighting ceremony, much like I had. However the tree was tiny in comparison to its surroundings, and the man avowed to bring them a bigger tree. The full details of the story are a bit fuzzy, but after a few years of the visitors traveling to Anegada and bringing friends, here we were, watching the Territory's largest Christmas tree light up for the first time.

Not only did the Canadian visitors give the island the tree, but they also brought the street hockey equipment and other gifts for the Anegadian children. Since ice hockey is synonymous with Canada, it seemed to be the perfect gift.

They flipped the switch on the tree, and the night continued with a church choir group and soloists performing before the Prophetic Sounds from Tortola and Leon and the Hot Shots from Virgin

Gorda took the stage.

I hope that next year when the Canadian group returns at Christmastime, as I expect they will, the children will be able to hold their own against the Canadians in the street-top version of the winter pastime.

A Christmas story

Every year, there's just one movie that signals Christmas for me, and that is the classic flick A Christmas Story. As the title is so simple, it's often forgotten and most people tend to know the movie as "the one with the Red Ryder BB gun." The BB gun is, in fact, central to the storyline. For 9-year-old Ralphie, it's all he wants for Christmas (he says so 28 times!), yet every adult promptly tells him, "you'll shoot your eye out!"

The story is told from the perspective of middle-aged Ralphie looking back on one particular Christmas from his childhood in the 1940s. And what a memorable Christmas it is - from his father's lamp in the shape of a female leg, to a classmate being triple-dog-dared to stick his tongue to the flagpole in subzero weather - it's a season to remember.

While there are scenes where I can recite word for word, I have to admit, I'm not sure I've ever seen A Christmas Story from start to finish in one sitting. This is largely due to the fact that the TBS TV network usually dedicates 24 hours from Christmas Eve through Christmas Day to airing the film. So it's become tradition in my house to just leave that channel on and we catch bits and pieces of the movie when time permits. I'll stick around when a favorite scene is coming up, or leave when a not so favorite one is (watching the tongue-on-the-flagpole scene is just painful!).

So if you've never seen the movie, or if it's been a while since you have, try to catch it on TV or even rent it this year - I guarantee you'll laugh, and appreciate your "normal" Christmas a bit more.

Christmas Bird Count

By Melissa Woodley

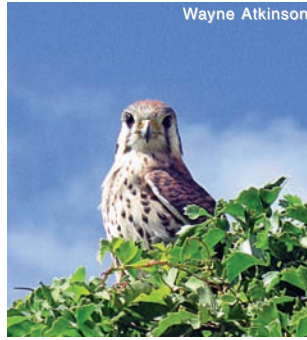

Around Christmas every year since 1988, BVI volunteers have set out on a journey to document the Territory's bird populations. This effort in our own backyard is part of a much larger one, the Audubon Society's Christmas Bird Count, which seeks to track growth trends of bird populations throughout the Americas.

Over a span of just two days, participants cover miles of land on Tortola and Anegada, meticulously counting the bird species of the islands, and they are not alone. Each year, tens of thousands of volunteers partake in this count, which traces its routes back over a century. The Audubon Society was established by John James Audubon, one of the first American conservationists, and an artist and naturalist from the 1800s. Since its inception in the early 1900s, the Christmas Bird Count has grown into the largest wildlife census in the world.

Last year, 62 different bird species were documented on Tortola, and 26 species on Anegada. In all, more than 2,000 birds were counted. All of this information gathered by dedicated volunteers helps scientists obtain a better idea of health, growth and other aspects of our wildlife.

The count on Tortola will take place Saturday, December 27, and Anegada's count will be on Monday, December 29. After the two counts, a results meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 7. Organizers of the BVI Bird Count are always looking for new volunteers. If you want to participate in the Count in 2009, email Nancy Woodfield Pascoe at the BVI National Parks Trust at planning@bvinpt.org or call 494-3904.

LIME N' DINE

To say that Bananakeet at the Heritage Inn is a restaurant with a view is an understatement. From its open-air dining balcony, guests are treated to a dramatic panorama of Tortola's north shore bays. Like a virtual postcard, Carrot, Apple, Long Bay and Smugglers Cove stretch out into the distance with St. Thomas and St. John trailing behind.

The restaurant, which is owned by Christina Washburn and her mother, Beverly Martin, is celebrating its fourth anniversary this Christmas Eve, and in celebration there will be some new dinner items on the menu, along with an expanded Happy Hour bar snack menu.

The meals are prepared by Willan Mitchell, also known as "Spice," who brings the flavors of his home island of Grenada to the Windy Hill restaurant. Some of Chef Spice's most popular items include the Grilled New York Strip; the Sesame Seared Tuna and the Herb Encrusted Rack of Lamb. New menu items include a variety of stir fries and pasta dishes. For those venturing up the hill for happy hour (4-5:30pm), there are an array of bar snacks such as Sunshine Dipped Tamarind Hot Wings, Super Sunset Nachos and Windy Hill Fish Tacos.

On Sundays, brunch is served from 10am to 2 pm and a Pimms Cocktail is served with the entrée, which includes French toast or pancakes, as well as eggs benedict; omelets and tasty sandwiches. The restaurant will also be featuring some new South African wines that guests can feel really good about drinking, since $1.00 from every bottle sold is donated to VISAR (Virgin Islands Search and Rescue).

On Wednesday and Friday, Ruben, one of the BVI's most talented musicians, entertains guests with his 12 string guitar and sultry range of blues, jazz and oldies. Whether Ruben is playing or not, enjoying happy hour or a meal at Bananakeet is a great way to round out the day. And of course, there is also the view.

WHAT'S HAPPENIN'

Christmas Dining

Pusser's is celebrating the opening of a new location with a Christmas dinner special at three of its four restaurants. A four-course dinner for just $29 can be had at Pusser's Landing, Pusser's Marina Cay, or Pusser's East (formerly Fat Hog Bob's) between 2 and 9pm on the big day.

Long Bay's 1748 restaurant also has a special menu planned for Christmas brunch, adding some unique items to the popular Sunday brunch spread.

At Chez Bamboo on Virgin Gorda, a relaxing Christmas meal will be accompanied by the sounds of Morris Mark.

New Year's Eve Parties

All around the BVI, our favorite bars and restaurants are throwing parties to ring in the New Year. On Jost Van Dyke, Foxy's legendary Old Years Night bash will feature the bluesy Zac Harmon Band and Cool Sessions Brass.

Trellis Bay's numerous restaurants and businesses are joining forces for this year's party, featuring salsa and steel pan music, a fabulous feast, flaming fireballs and a fireworks display. The entertainment will start when the sun is still high in the sky, and continue straight through to the new year. At the Last Resort, a retro Studio 54 party will include live music, a champagne toast and lots of vintage outfits and dancing.

Many restaurants on Tortola have planned out a special New Year's dinner menu. In the West End, Jolly Roger has a special barbecue and champagne toast at midnight. On Frenchman's Cay, the Watermark's New Year's Eve Bash includes a five-course dinner followed by a deejayed after party. Watermark's sister restaurant, The Dove, also has a pre-party dinner planned, and Long Bay Resort is holding an amazing buffet dinner, sure to fuel your long night out. There's a New Year's celebration at Treasure Isle and Brandywine Bay will also be open if you're looking for an elegant meal with waterfront views of the Channel. On the other side of the Channel, Pirates Bight Beach Bar will have live music by Uprising

Christmas horse racing tradition continues

While the anticipated showdown between Premier's Cup winner Captain Slew and Sweet Grass Creek is off because the Captain came up lame, Christmas season horse racing will continue full fledged on Sunday with a series of exciting races. Post time is 1:30 p.m. at the Ellis Thomas Downs in Sea Cows Bay.

After their exciting race earlier this month that ended in a dead heat, anticipation was building for this race and the start of a dynamic rivalry between Captain Slew and Sweet Grass Creek, before bone chips knocked the Captain to the sidelines. Despite this, the five races on the card featuring local horses will be just as exciting because they are all evenly matched. The Racing Secretary has not been sleeping on the job. Congrats.

"I'm looking forward to a very competitive day," BVI Horse Racing Association president Perry Penn said. "I always insist on competitive races and fan support, so I'm looking for them to come out."

Die hard fans will point to several races on the five race card that they want to see as their favorites run. With races in St. Croix on Boxing

Day, the race was moved to Sunday as many of the same jockeys who contest the St. Croix event, will be mounting at the Ellis Thomas Downs.

Penn said he's happy to see the infusion of local horses since this year has been a challenging one and at one point, they had to rely on U.S. Virgin Islands horses to fill a card. "I think its good for the business, good for the territory and good for the sport with the local horses because now we can do our thing without having the foreign horses coming in to make a card," he said. "Don't get me wrong now. With the U.S. Virgin Islands horses, it creates that much more excitement and it gives us that many more horses per race."

The card: Race 1: 5 Furlongs; Shine, Go Go Girl and Arabian Dinner. Race 2: 7 Furlongs: Camelo Twist, Slick Sword and Cefeiro (debut). Race 3: 7 Furlongs, Fabulous Cherokee, Personal Hearing and Capital Charm. Race 4: 7 Furlongs, Brass Flash, Rey Miestro Jr. and L.A. Fame. Race 5 Feature race: 1-Mile: Bird Sweet Grass Creek, Charm. Moonlighting Event and Heisinmypocket.

Track season on the horizon

The BVI Athletics Association kicks off its 2009 season with a Development Track and Field Series, starting on January 3. Field Events will include the Long Jump (U-13) and Shot Put (17-Open).

Track events will include the 600 meters (17-Open); 200 meters Hurdles (U-17 & U-20); 60 meters (U-9 & 11) and the 150 meters (U-13—Open).

The Association expects to name its 2008 male and female Athletes of the Year in three divisions as well as launch its Athlete of the Meet Program. Ahead of the competitions, a meeting for Technical Officials is set for 6 p.m. on Dec 29 at the Department of Youth Affairs and Sports.

Other meets are scheduled for January 17 & 31; February 7, 21 & 28 and March 7.
